

336 → 323 BC

1912 Dates J-BK

Accession of Alexander the Great

336-330BC

1912 Dates J-BK

Arses, King of Persia, murdered to make room for DARIUS III, CODOMANNUS

336-323<sup>00</sup> Reginald
356-3238C

334BC crossed the Hellespont

Alexander the Great
He had to maintain an Army of 65,000 men and 8,600 animals, supplying them
with 140 tons of grain and 102,000 gals of water
every day

336 BC

---

Philip of Macedon assassinated .

336 BC

Alexander the Great became king of Macedonia and leader of the Hellenic League of Greek states upon the assassination of his father Philip II.

He adopted his father's determination to master the Persian Empire and to spread Greek culture throughout the known world.

336BC

1912 Dates J-BK

---

Philip was murdered.

336 BC

Assassination of Philip.
Accession of Alexander.
Accession of Darius III

336BC

Philip of Macedon assassinated
at Aegae, succeeded by Alexander the Great (A 332-323BC).

336 BC

Philip II of Macedon was assassinated @ 46.

His son Alexander, a lad of 20 succeeded.

336 BC

Philip II of Macedonia was assassinated.

He was 46 years old

Victor of Chaeronea

336BC

Assassination of Philip.